Nazis' Southern Front In Russia Nears Collapse

Victorious Russians Already
30 Miles West Of Recaptured Taganrog

LUNGE FORWARD ON 400-MILE FRONT

BULLETIN
(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Aug. 31.—Smolensk, key Nazi defense position for much of the enemy's crumbling central front, came under direct threat today when Red Army legions stormed into strategic Yelnya, only 45 miles southeast of that big rail and manufacturing center.

By NATALIA RENE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Aug. 31.—With victorious Red army troops already 30 miles west of Taganrog, Nazi anchor base on the Sea of Azov, rapid collapse of the Germans' southern front in Russia appeared in progress today as the Soviets lunged forward all along the 400-mile Ukrainian battlefield.

Large German forces trapped as they fled Taganrog battled desperately for survival against Kuban Cossacks and seasoned Soviet veterans of Stalingrad. These forces had circled the Nazi flank and reached the Azov coast at Veselovoznesenka, half way to Mariupol, next German Azov base to the west.

Follows Break-Through
A Soviet communique disclosed that Taganrog's fall followed a Russian break-through several days ago at Donetsk-Amvrosievka, 40 miles to the north, on the railroad line to Stalingrad. That German pivot base in the Donets basin is now under serious Russian menace.

After capturing Donetsk-Amvrosievka, the Soviets in a daring maneuver smashed through the enemy's rear and surged on to the Azov coast, overrunning more than 150 population centers.

Blast 21 Axis Planes Out Of Sky In Italy

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Aug. 31.—American bombing formations, continuing their non-stop assault upon Italian communications lines, blasted airfields and rail lines in a devastating new sweep which saw 21 enemy planes shot out of the sky. Allied headquarters announced today.

Giant four-motored American Flying Fortresses precision bombed the Viterbo airfield 40 miles north of Rome, while Mitchell and Marauder medium bombardment units rocked the Aversa rail yards 10 miles above Naples and the switching depot of Civitavecchia 35 miles north-west of Rome on the western shore of the mainland.

Flying Fortress gunners bagged two Axis interceptors as they swept over the Viterbo drome while at least 17 enemy planes out of a formation of 75 encountered at Aversa were shot down. Two others were chalked up during miscellaneous night engagements, the communique added.

The skies over southern Italy were darkened by swarms of Allied warplanes, including Warhawks, Mitchells, Invaders, Balmores, Bostons and Kittyhawks which loosed bombs on a number of important rail and military centers. La Mezia, Sappi, Pallaro, Paola, Catanzaro and Marina all were hit with concentrated fury.

(International News Service)
WAYLAND, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Rescue workers today were still searching the wreckage of a Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad crack flyer which crashed too speedily into a switching engine last night in one of the state's worst railroad disasters in years.

Death toll in the accident was set as at least 30 this morning, including two small children and 24 women, most of them victims of scalding. In addition, between 75 and 100 others were hospitalized, many of whom are in serious condition and not expected to live.

Mostly In One Coach
The dead and injured were mostly in one coach, the steel wall of which was stove in when it struck a switching engine which emerged from a siding as the New York to Chicago Express roared down on it. The passenger train sheared off the front half of the engine, overturning it, and sending clouds of live steam pouring on more than 60 of the passengers.

This town of less than 2,000 threw all its resources into coping with the disaster. The American Legion hall was established as an emergency hospital.

Blitz Bombing Raids Resumed On Rhineland

Pulverizing Attacks Are Made On Industrial Cities By Huge Force

MUENCHEN - GLADBACH AND RHEYDT TARGET

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Aug. 31.—Hundreds of four-engined British bombers resumed the aerial offensive against Nazi Germany last night with a pulverizing attack on the industrial area of Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydt in the Rhineland, the air ministry announced today.

At the same time speedy wooden Mosquito bombers blasted the nearby city of Duisburg, target of some of the RAF's heavy attacks of the war, while others raided airfields in France and the low countries.

Twenty-eight bombers are missing from these operations, the air ministry said.

Follow Daylight Attacks
The heavy raids on the Rhineland followed daylight attacks against enemy objectives near St. Omer in northern France.

Throughout the morning the roar of plane motors over the south coast of England was almost deafening. For several hours countless numbers of aircraft of various types kept shuttling back and forth across the narrow body of water that separates England from the continent.

The German radio said that the RAF had attacked the Rhineland at night, "particularly Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydt," inflicting considerable damage on "non-military property." The Nazis claimed 25 British planes were shot down.

Twin Industrial Cities
Muenchen-Gladbach and Rheydt are twin industrial cities 20 miles from the Dutch border in western Germany and approximately the same distance from the frequently bombed city of Dusseldorf on the Rhine. The cities have a normal peacetime population of 203,000.

Martin Marauder medium bombers of the United States Eighth Air Force and Mitchells and Venturas flown by British airmen blasted enemy objectives near St. Omer.

Although the specific objectives were not disclosed, it was assumed that the network of Nazi airfields and communications in this region were probably the targets. One of the Mitchells was lost in the attack.

Spitfires flown by British, Canadian and Allied pilots provided an effective cover for the medium bombers.

Another Heavy Aerial Attack Is Made At Wewak

Jap Airdromes At New Guinea Stronghold Bombed By Allies

PROBABLY 37 JAP PLANES DESTROYED

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Aug. 31.—Another heavy aerial blow at Japanese airdromes at Wewak, New Guinea, in which at least 25 and probably 37 out of a force of 60 enemy fighters were shot down, was announced today by Gen. MacArthur's headquarters.

Pierce air battles developed over the target as allied heavy bombers, escorted by fighter planes, dumped 114 tons of bombs on aircraft revetments and dispersal areas at the Wewak and Borom fields.

More Planes Destroyed
At least 12 additional enemy planes caught on the ground were destroyed and 17 others were damaged in sky combat while the great weight of allied bombs ripped into installations and buildings on the airdromes, igniting numerous fires.

The communique also reported a successful attack on a Japanese cruiser by an allied bomber on night patrol off New Ireland. The lone allied plane landed a 500-pound bomb squarely on the enemy war vessel.

P-38 Lightning fighters fought torrid duels with more than 60 Jap Zero pilots who twice attempted to fight off four-engined Liberators that pounded the Wewak airfields. Each time the Japanese intercepted the Lightnings streaked down.

Military Training For Youths After War Is Proposed
Kentucky Congressman To Ask Action To Provide Year's Training For Boys

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Chairman Andrew J. May (D Ky.), of the House Military Affairs committee today announced that he will introduce a bill when Congress reconvenes to provide compulsory postwar military training for 1,000,000 youths annually.

The Kentuckian asserted his proposed measure would require that after the cessation of present hostilities all youths between the age of 17 and 21 take a year of military indoctrination.

He said that his objective in introducing such legislation now was to give Congress a chance to act "while it is in the mood."

"If we wait until after this war, I have serious doubts that we could get such a bill through," May added.

He predicted that a program of compulsory military training along the lines he envisions would cause 1,000,000 youths to be trained yearly and would "enable this country to maintain a standing army of 500,000 with ease."

"It would be the greatest security against future wars which we could have," May said. "If we kept a standing army of 500,000 thoroughly trained young men, and maintained an adequate fleet and air force, no nation on earth would dare attack us."

The latest Russian victory of Taganrog illustrates how military tactics swung back from the concept of a couple of years ago. Then the tank and the dive bomber were almost everything.

Fourth Year Of War Now About To Close Finds Trend Reversed

By FRED R. ZEPP
(International News Service Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—In history's crowded annals, this fourth year of global conflict now drawing to a close stands an excellent chance of being listed as one of the most important 365-day periods of all time.

For within the 12 months' span beginning with last Sept. 1, when the fourth year of war began, the allies succeeded not only in stemming the onrushing tide of Axis aggression but gradually wresting the initiative and launching the drives that led to Tunisia, Sicily, Orel and Munda.

Contrasting News
The war news last Sept. 1 was one of continued allied withdrawals in Africa, in Russia and in the wilds of New Guinea. On that day Axis tanks, elite light infantry and dive-bombers penetrated British minefields north of the Qattara depression at the flank of the El Alamein line. The center of the battle for Egypt and Africa raged at a point only 75 miles west of Alexandria.

That same day in Russia the Germans announced they had broken through the red army defenses to the east coast of the Black sea while "south of Stalingrad infantry divisions and mechanized formations widened a gap in the enemy line of fortifications and advanced toward Stalingrad."

And near Kokoda, on the mountain slopes leading toward Port Moresby, the Japanese were making gains.

Home Front To Get Attention
President To Take Up Problems Confronting Congress On Resumption

MANY DOMESTIC WORRIES IN VIEW
By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—President Roosevelt today was expected to turn his attention toward a solution of pressing problems on the home front after setting the tempo and strategy of forthcoming Anglo-American offensives in Europe and the Far East in his conference with Allied war leaders at Quebec.

Congress reconvenes in two weeks, after its brief summer recess, and returning congressmen are already bringing back to the capital a rumbling of discontent from their constituents about many domestic problems.

Home Front Problems
The rising cost of living, shortages of food and gasoline and fuel for winter heating, threatened shortages of manpower in the nation's essential war industries, the drafting of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers into the armed services, and the prospect of even higher taxes are among the domestic problems that must cross the president's desk within the next two or three weeks.

To clarify some of these home front problems and put them in their proper perspective with the urgency of the nation's all-out effort in the war theaters, it is likely that the chief executive will soon address the country in another fire-side chat.

Quebec Aftermath
For the rest of this week, however, the aftermath of the Quebec war conference will occupy much of the president's attention. A considerable portion of this will concern long-range planning to meet postwar problems as well as the tangled web of politico-military strategy involved in prosecuting the war.

Toward the middle of the week, Mr. Roosevelt will again meet with Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who is expected to be a White House guest after winding up his visit in Canada. He will bring to the capital for their first visit Mrs. Churchill and their daughter, Mary, a junior officer in the British Women's Army Auxiliary service. These talks with Mr. Churchill are expected to last for several days.

Flood Of Reports Said To Indicate Invasion Nears

Imminent Allied Invasion Of European Continent Fears Expressed By Axis

GERMANY BATTLES DENMARK REVOLT

By STEN HEDMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
STOCKHOLM, Aug. 31.—Axis fears of an imminent Allied invasion of the European continent were emphasized in a flood of dispatches reaching Stockholm today as Nazi Germany grappled with rising political and military disaffection in Denmark.

Coincident with a German broadcast alleging that an allied landing by 400 men on the southeast coast of Italy had been repulsed, these messages reached Stockholm from Axis sources to indicate the mounting Italo-German conviction that invasion is in the making.

Some Reports
1—The Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter quoted German military circles as saying that in the last few days Nazi reconnaissance of the Mediterranean revealed large allied "ship gatherings" at Bizerte and Oran in North Africa and the port of Augusta on Sicily.

2—Nazi circles were said to regard these concentrations as indication of an attack upon Corsica or the southern coast of France.

3—German reconnaissance also was said to have uncovered concentrations of allied warships, transports and landing boats off the southeast coast of England forecasting invasion of western Europe.

4—The Rome correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said that the Italian government was now located at Palermo.

Lieut. William L. Whitacre has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross in recognition of courageous service to his combat organization while participating in aerial flights with the Fifth Air Force in the Southwest Pacific area from November 1942 to May of this year.

Lieut. Whitacre is now located at Pueblo, Colo., as an air and ground instructor. He left Australia July 4 after having served ten months in the Southwest Pacific area.

The decorated army officer, who is the son of Mrs. Albert L. Whitacre, of R. D. 1, took part in more than 200 hours of long-range bombing missions during which hostile combat was probable and expected.

This letter, dated August 10, which was received here Monday, told of the award and of Lieut. Whitacre's extraordinary achievements.

Mine Workers Are Sentenced

Violators Of Smith-Connally
Act Hear Court Decree
At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 31.—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker on Monday afternoon sentenced 27 United Mine Workers to six months in jail each and then sustained the sentences and placed all the men under three years' probation.

The men, acting on the advice of counsel, entered a plea of "no defense" to charges of fomenting strikes at government-owned coal mines in violation of the Smith-Connally law.

Flays Men And Leaders
The federal jurist also took the occasion to flay the men and their leaders for an action which he termed "a direct threat against the safety and integrity of this country."

You undertook to sabotage the mining industry," Judge Schoonmaker declared, "you possibly did not realize that full extent of your actions, otherwise I would impose the full penalty."

The cases of three other members of the Mine Workers of America also indicted for instigating work stoppages in Fayette and Washington county bituminous miners were continued until October 11 after Harry A. Estep, counsel for the defendants, told the court the trio were in a Uniontown hospital with injuries received in a recent mine accident.

Estep added, however, that the men had signed affidavits agreeing to plead "no defense" and that federal attorneys indicated a willingness to accept the plea.

Unwisely Led
Judge Schoonmaker, before suspending sentence upon the contingent of coal diggers, admitted the men may have been misled and unwisely advised in their strike activities. Earlier, he heard Estep plea for leniency on the grounds the miners were "men of little education who now know they made a mistake in acting against the United States government."

Dismissing to point out the importance of the Smith-Connally anti-strike law in the American defense for victory over the Axis, Judge Schoonmaker pointed out that the "purpose of the law is simply to get coal mined—a vital essential in the successful prosecution of the war. When you act to sabotage the coal industry you offer a direct threat to and attack the safety of the country."

He observed that "no civilian is free from the horrors of modern war and also from the duty to protect his country. The United States is engaged in a global war calling for the efforts of all its citizenry as well as its soldiers."

The court warned the men that the question of whether they will serve the six months suspended sentence "depends upon your future behavior and your willingness to become good American citizens."

Attorney Estep, seeking leniency from the court, pleaded with Judge Schoonmaker in a 10-minute address before the formal sentencing that his clients had been "continuously schooled in the cardinal UMW principle of non-contract, no work, and were completely taken back by the union order to continue mining operations with a wage agreement."

Oh, to be young again, so candy would taste just so good even when the label tells what's in it.

BLAST 21 AXIS PLANES OUT OF SKY IN ITALY

Civitavecchia found the area illuminated by the glow of fires set by Mitchell formations earlier in the day. One two-ton blockbuster scored a direct hit on a chemical works while other big bombs were seen bursting on a nearby transformer station, returning airmen reported.

Near the Decimomannu airbase on Sardinia, speedy P-40 Warhawks blasted to smithereens a steel rail bridge, cutting one of the enemy's most important communication links through that area.

The dogfight at Aversa was one of the stiffest ever waged over Italy. Enemy interceptors, carrying specially-fitted belly tanks to enable them to continue the battle 100 miles out at sea, battled the raiders tooth and nail. The Marauders fought them off successfully while simultaneously scoring direct hits on a maze of tracks and warehouses below. Gunners of these medium bombardment units knocked down 10 enemy fighters; Lightning pilots accounted for the other seven bagged.

At Viterbo, Fortress bombardiers set fire to the main enemy airbase while their gunners accounted for 2 of 25 Axis fighters attempting interception.

crease in their gas allotments—at least until late this fall or during the winter.

Coincident with the removal of the pleasure driving ban in a joint statement by OPA and PAW, it was disclosed that the enforcement staff of OPA will now be put to the job of prosecuting "vigorously" persons engaged in the black market of gasoline.

Meanwhile, in removing the ban, OPA told the public that "there is no increase in the supply of gasoline available for civilians," and in effect advised them to let their conscience be their guide as to what constitutes non-essential driving.

No Unrestricted Driving
In effect since May 20, the pleasure driving ban will be quilled at 12:01 A. M., September 1, marking a victory for the eastern seaboard congressional gasoline "bloc" led by Rep. Fred Hartley (R) N. J., which long advocated easing up restrictions in the eastern states.

OPA asserted that "it should be realized by all that unrestricted pleasure driving is out as long as gasoline is needed by our fighting forces."

It was also disclosed that the OPA has taken steps to decrease issuance of "B" and "C" gasoline ration stamps to prevent their use in non-essential driving and thus bolster the low supply.

Air raid warnings were sounded last night in the Swiss cities of Zurich and Basle, indicating that the RAF, in addition to its attack on Germany, might also be active against industrial targets in northern Italy.

persons who have had any experience in bus or train travel recently. Non-essential travel should certainly be halted over the holiday period, or there will be such congestion that many will be left stranded.

Tomorrow will mark the anniversary of practically four years of war, marking the anniversary of Hitler's invasion of Poland. England and France got into the war a few days later officially.

Lawrence county should have quite a good-sized buckwheat crop this year, if fields to be seen around the district are any good evidence.

The huge state highway sign on the New Bedford road, about half way between New Castle and New Bedford seems to have been the victim of some reckless motorist. It shows considerable damage on the side nearest the road.

Pa Newc was somewhat puzzled recently while driving on North Jefferson street, north of Wallace avenue, to find all street intersections on the west guarded by a man with a red flag. It was discovered that resurfacing of Wilmington avenue was in progress and traffic was being detoured.

One of life's little tragedies. While Pa Newc was at a service station a few days since, a boy riding a bicycle, stopped and inquired if he could use the air at the station. He was told to go ahead. In a moment there was a loud explosion, and it was found that the tire of the bicycle had been blown out. Bicycle tires will not stand much pressure, and the attendant at the station said many boys run tires by putting too much pressure into the tubes.

Auto traffic restrictions of the war have certainly cleared the highway of buses and trucks. Pa Newc is informed. There is only a small amount of auto traffic for the buses and trucks to contend with now.

Removal of the "pleasure driving" ban will make scant difference as motorists will have no chance to make extended drives because of the limited gas supply.

HITLER, ENTERING FIFTH YEAR OF WAR

it through the Holland-Belgium border. If the German armies get back to the Dnieper river line without a disaster they may prove that a defensive on 1943 lines is difficult to crack.

As the tactics of the war of armies have swung through the years from the Maginot line-type of defensive to the panzer-Stuka offensive and back to the hedgerow-type defense and the artillery-infantry assault, so air tactics have passed through revolutionary changes.

In the air also the German military men, who worked while the armies slept, stole a march. Italy's mad genius, Gen. Douhet, dreamed the theory of strategic bombing in the early 1920s, and the Nazis determined to try it as a short-cut to victory. They did, against Britain in 1940, and it backfired in their faces.

But then the Allies took it up on a scale of which the Nazis never dreamed, and during the past year have been knocking the eternal daylight out of German war power. It's too early to be sure it will bring victory. But it certainly looks good. Thus in life as in poetry does the wit engineer seem likely to get hoist with his own petard.

BOMBING OF NAZI CITIES IS LOWERING MORALE OF TROOPS

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Bombing of German cities has lowered the morale of Nazi troops in Norway, the London radio declared in a broadcast reported today by CBS.

BBC quoted an article in the Swedish newspaper social Demokraten as saying the German soldiers, mostly 17-year-olds or men over 45, are greatly depressed and in one barracks three were arrested recently for smashing a radio set during a broadcast from Germany.

The Germans admitted the loss of their Stalingrad army Feb. 2 and 24 hours later the Japanese conceded defeat on Guadalcanal.

Then came Tuliza, with the occupation of Tunis and Elberte on May 7 and the end of resistance at Cape Bon May 12; the surrender of Pantelleria June 11 and of Lampedusa the next day. American troops took Attu May 30 while others began to roll through Rendova and on toward Munda on June 30. An abortive Nazi summer offensive got under way July 5 but crumpled as the reds began their drive and took Orel, Belgorod, Kharkov and Taganrog. Sicily was invaded July 10, cleaned out Aug. 19—18 days after Berlin itself had been ordered evacuated in fear of RAF assaults of the type which gutted Hamburg. Meanwhile Benito Mussolini had disappeared into oblivion, and the year ended with his blasted Italy on the verge of surrender.

England figures that an efficiently run Victory garden, worked, four hours a day, can produce more than $100 worth of food a year.

FOURTH YEAR OF WAR, NOW ABOUT TO CLOSE.

Moresby in New Guinea, outmanned allied jungle patrols fell back in the face of Japanese thrusts of increasing strength.

Year Shows Turn

That was how the fourth year of the war started.

It was not many days, however, before the tide began to turn, imperceptibly at first, then with ever growing strength as allied supply depots began to pour their steadily increasing resources into the fray.

On Sept. 10, four days after the Germans had taken Novorossisk and three days after the Japanese had landed reinforcements in the Solomons and gained anew near Kokoda, the British invaded Madagascar. Thirteen days later, while fighting raged in the cellars and on the rooftops of blazing Stalingrad, the Tommies entered Tananarive, capital of the French island.

Then came a series of straw in the wind. Sept. 26 saw the RAP sweep over Oslo to bomb a rally of Vidkun Quisling's followers and drop bombs on the local gестапо headquarters. Three days later, sweating allied jungle troops took strategic Ioribwa ridge in the Owen Stanley, shoving the Japs back on the first stages of a retreat that is still continuing.

The following day, Adolf Hitler, perhaps guided by his boasted intuition, announced that the policy of the German high command would be to hold what it possessed, letting the enemy wear himself out with attacks. Significantly, Gen. Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was in the Sportsplatz to hear his fuhrer's bombs.

All this time the allies were striking at the Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, beating back counter-attacks on Guadalcanal and sending planes by night deep into the Reich—all helping keep the Axis busy until:

Drive Is Started

It was in the darkness of Oct. 22 that the big guns of the British eight army laid down their nerve-shattering barrage that sounded the trumpet call to a submarine allied offensive all over the globe.

Days later infantry and tank forces penetrated a few of Rommel's best positions and on Nov. 4 came a triumphant announcement that the Germans and Italians were in full retreat.

During these same days American forces trapped a Japanese invasion force off Guadalcanal, and a few hours later, on Nov. 5, hostilities ended on Madagascar and the allies had firmly protected the flank of their shipping lane through the Indian ocean from Japanese assault.

American liberation forces splashed ashore in North Africa Nov. 7, on the same day that 20,000 more Axis prisoners were taken in Libya and United Nations troops wrested control of all Papua except the Buna-Gona beachhead.

Hitler boasted on Nov. 8 that Stalingrad was firmly in German hands. The next day Algiers capitulated; two days later Admiral Darlan ordered hostilities against the allies to end.

Tobruk, scene of one of Britain's bravest epics, was occupied again by the Tommies Nov. 12, just 24 hours before the United States naval forces opened a terrific two-day battle with the Japanese off Guadalcanal, which cost the sons of Nippon a battleship, three heavy cruisers, two light cruisers, five destroyers and eight transports sunk with a loss of 30,000 men.

French Scuttle Fleet
In late November Moscow began to speak of encircling the Germans at Stalingrad while the French scuttled their fleet in Toulon on the 27th and Gona fell in New Guinea on the 24th. The Russians mounted a definite offensive at Stalingrad in the closing days of the month and then the debacle really started. By Dec. 31 the Nazis suffered 312,650 casualties and lost 1,589 towns to the Soviet three-pronged drive which hurled them out of the metropolises.

The Japanese were wiped out at Buna Jan. 4 while the British were racing toward Tripoli, which they seized Jan. 23. The famous battle of the Bismarck sea, in which American airmen wiped out a 22-ship Nipponese convoy came March 4.

The Germans admitted the loss of their Stalingrad army Feb. 2 and 24 hours later the Japanese conceded defeat on Guadalcanal.

Then came Tuliza, with the occupation of Tunis and Elberte on May 7 and the end of resistance at Cape Bon May 12; the surrender of Pantelleria June 11 and of Lampedusa the next day. American troops took Attu May 30 while others began to roll through Rendova and on toward Munda on June 30. An abortive Nazi summer offensive got under way July 5 but crumpled as the reds began their drive and took Orel, Belgorod, Kharkov and Taganrog. Sicily was invaded July 10, cleaned out Aug. 19—18 days after Berlin itself had been ordered evacuated in fear of RAF assaults of the type which gutted Hamburg. Meanwhile Benito Mussolini had disappeared into oblivion, and the year ended with his blasted Italy on the verge of surrender.

England figures that an efficiently run Victory garden, worked, four hours a day, can produce more than $100 worth of food a year.

FLOOD OF REPORTS SAID TO INDICATE
INVASION NEARS

the Dagens Nyheter cited "general opinion" in Italy that penetration of the continent will not be long in coming.

Speculative Reports Frequent
Such speculative reports from Axis capitals have appeared in Stockholm newspapers frequently, but rarely with such force and unanimity. While it was possible the rumors were an Axis "buildup" for later announcing failure of an invasion attempt, such as in the reported disclosure the Nazis have taken over the country lock, stock and barrel with resignation of Prime Minister Erik Scavenius and his cabinet.

Arrests and disorders in the rebellious little nation that has defied the will of its Nazi overlords continued unabated yesterday and last night. Nearly 1,000 military and political leaders were taken into custody.

A well-informed Dane who arrived in Sweden last night said that the entire Danish royal family was now interned at Amleiborg palace in Copenhagen after having been arrested at the summer palace at Sorgenfri.

PENN POWER TO

Pennsylvania Power company employees and their families will participate in their annual corn roast at six o'clock Thursday evening at Cascade Park. According to reports there will be at least 100 dozen ears of corn. It is an annual affair that is much enjoyed by the workers and their families.

ed places enroute, thus encircling Taganrog. Then other Russian forces, in a frontal assault on the port, pushed the desperately resisting Germans out of Taganrog.

"As a result of this victory by our troops, the Rostov province has been completely liberated from the German invaders," the communists said. "Remnants of units of the Taganrog German group are being exterminated by our troops."

Outflanks 200,000
In addition to trapping the retreating Taganrog garrison, the Russian advance to the sea of Azov also outflanked an estimated 200,000 Germans in the western Caucasus. The announcement that a German infantry company was annihilated northeast of Novorossisk indicated that a frontal assault on the Nazis in the Caucasus already may be under way.

The communists also announced capture of several more localities west and south of Kharkov in several Russian drives threatening to cut railroad escape routes of an estimated 600,000 Germans in the Donets Basin.

Since the State has taken over several of the functions formerly performed by the County Commissioners a great portion of the work coming within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners has to do with budgets, taxation, tax appeals, tax sales, finance and office management.

As the board of Commissioners consists of three members, don't you think it would be a good plan to have on this board a man who has had 25 years experience in the above mentioned work?

Return Of Pupils To School Blow To War Labor Force

Loss Of Over 1,800,000 High School Students To Have
'Catastrophic Effect'

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 — The War Manpower Commission declared Monday that the withdrawal of more than 1,800,000 high school pupils from the labor force at the opening of school next month would have a "catastrophic effect" on the nation's manpower situation.

Paul V. McNutt, WMC director, said that the commission was endeavoring to arrange a part-time work program that would enable continuance of educational processes and at the same time "make youngsters available for the war effort."

The WMC chief asserted, however, that he was firmly opposed to closing schools and added:

"We are not going to do anything that would permit the exploitation of child labor or interference, if we can help it, with the educational process."

McNutt indicated that the WMC would have no definite proposal on the number of hours that students would be expected to work or the nature of the jobs to be performed by them.

"It is a question of how much time they can give and still carry on their school work," he said. "As to the jobs, they may release people for direct war work and be making the same contribution as if they entered direct war work. In many cases they can be used in service activities, such as grocery stores and release older persons for war production."

The WMC director said that the over-all problem of employing high school students was largely a local matter and its solution would depend on what each individual school board wanted to do. The WMC, however, will have a general program for the guidance of local school authorities.

martyr out of Mr. Davis. They assert that he is really a very high-toned fellow, but that he is now bruised and discouraged, and they blame Mr. Roosevelt for treating him badly. This effort might be more successful were it not contradicted by Mr. Davis' Washington record of bungling and inaptitude. The truth is, Mr. Davis has become an administration liability rather than an asset, and is being treated as such.

Eighteen Cases Of Rabies In 3 Months

State Dog Enforcement Agent
Reports Situation To Chief

There have been 18 cases of hydrophobia in Lawrence county since June according to Howard E. McLure, state dog law enforcement agent and as a result of this information Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen said that all dogs should be kept tied.

According to Agent McLure a dog owned in Bridge street attacked a 51 year old man and after an examination of its head at Harrisburg the dog was pronounced as having rabies.

It also developed that some dogs in Ohio were reportedly afflicted with madness and farmers living along the border line were requested to keep a sharp observance so that their dogs may not be attacked by the rabies' infected canines.

Model Monoplane Makes New Record

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—A model monoplane today had established an all-time non-stop record for distance flying, and startled enthusiasts could only credit the gremlins.

The model, which has a four-foot fuselage and a seven-foot wing spread, was picked up in the waters of Roslyn Harbor, N. Y., yesterday, 365 miles from its takeoff in Hampton, Va.

The plane bore the notation: "Please notify soon, for prompt reward, H. P. Weber, 409 Lee St., Hampton, Va. Please return motor and plane for reasonable reward. Please notify N. A. C. A., Langley Field, Va."

It was picked up by Mrs. Edith Peakins, who was out in a canoe with her daughter, June, after they had watched it descend.

Bootleg Days To Return If Sugar Rations Lifted

Enforcement Officers Prepare
For Worst As Liquor
Shortage Grows

(International News Service)

DENVER—Officers who battled bootleggers when the 18th Amendment was going strong and who will have to do so again if bootlegging returns, are preparing themselves for the worst.

J. L. White, investigator in charge of the Denver office of the Alcohol Tax Unit, declared that relaxation of sales restrictions on sugar and the current shortage of liquor is the recipe for the return of bootlegging days.

"In Colorado at the present time only a few bootleggers are operating," White said. There is a possibility, however, that a family here and there will save enough sugar to produce a small amount of mash, but that's as far as it goes.

Bootleggers need sugar. "But, if we allow sugar to be sold unrestricted, it will be just what the bootleggers are waiting for. This doesn't mean we can't double sugar rations for the average consumer without running a risk of bootlegging, for as long as some form of rationing is maintained, we've got a safeguard."

White said that during last year approximately 6,000 stills were confiscated through the country and 17,000 cases were recommended for prosecution as against 30,000 such cases in 1936.

Prohibition era stills in this state, however, were small compared with those in the east, White declared. Most of the Colorado stills averaged about 1,000 gallons, while those in the east ranged up to 40,000 gallons.

White pointed out that bootleggers indulged in practices which might cure buyers of illicit liquor from breaking the law if they knew about them.

"You Ain't Comin' Back" "We located many stills in which the bodies of rats, cats and other refuse were found, and there was one instance in St. Louis where federal investigators discovered a man's body in a giant concrete vat. The man supposedly had been overcome by the fumes and had fallen in without anybody knowing about it," White said.

White said one of the department's favorite jokes to have come out of the prohibition days involved the use of a small boy to lead them through mountain trails to stills.

One small boy leading officers, having been promised $10, stopped halfway along the trail and said he wanted his money. When told the investigator would pay him on their way back, he just grinned. "Gentlemen, you ain't comin' back."

Japs Rely On Anti-Aircraft Fire For Defense

By LEE VAN ATTA

WITH ADVANCED STRIKING FORCES IN NEW GUINEA, Aug. 31.—Using increased anti-aircraft fire, the Japanese put on the heat at Hansa bay today as deadly Mitchell strafing units resumed their pulverizing attacks against the key barge embarkation point. But it did the enemy little good. The Americans, as usual, bombed their objectives.

116,170 "Ideas for Victory"

FROM G. M. WAR WORKERS

... and General Motors Is Rewarding That Spirit at the Rate of a Million Dollars a Year

Floyd C. Fox, a General Motors employee for 27 years, has received two $1,000 War Bonds for suggestions to improve methods of manufacturing parts of an aviation engine.

For a suggestion resulting in simplification of machine gun manufacture, submitted after she had worked in the gun plant only six months, Miss Esther Wrona received a $1,000 War Bond.

In all of its 112 plants in 50 cities of the United States and Canada, General Motors encourages employee suggestions for aiding war production, through a carefully planned system of awards. General Motors has always welcomed suggestions from employees. In fact, there have been similar suggestion plans in various G.M. plants for years, and it was thought that an expansion of these plans in these times would increase war production efficiency.

As a result, G.M. war workers have to date contributed 116,170 written ideas. Yes, written ideas. Many of them good ideas, "Victory Ideas." Nearly 20,000 of them have been winning ideas and have been put into operation. For the open mind policy of General Motors accords a fair test to every suggestion.

Eight thousand four hundred ideas were submitted the very first month. They are now coming in at a monthly rate of better than 10,000, or a yearly rate of one idea for every three workers.

Thus, the individual war workers of General Motors are being given full opportunity to add their bit to the continuing contributions of management, supervision and engineering, in those activities which deal with increasing production, saving materials, lowering costs and promoting plant safety.

Helping Those Who Help America

In the first 15 months' operation of its plan to reward workers for ideas that assist our war effort, General Motors paid out $660,895 in War Bonds and Stamps. And today the awards are being made at the rate of better than a million dollars a year.

General Motors considers that money well spent. It is a merited reward to those who help America. It is a proper incentive for individual initiative. It is one form of appreciation to those who think as they work—who are not content merely to perform the requirements of their jobs.

OCD NOTES

Activities of OCD Workers
Are Outlined Here

"It has been reported to City OCD that in some sectors during air raid drills, some wardens have been congregated on street corners in groups. If you will refresh your memory, your training instructs you to clear the streets on your beat, and then take shelter yourself, and not stand around on corners in groups. We hope that any sector that has been having this difficulty will correct the situation at once, so that no more reports of this nature will come to this office," said Frank Sargent, co-ordinator.

Group leaders have been calling City OCD for further information regarding the picnic to be held on Labor Day. Plans are going ahead and, with help, the picnic should be a success. If a person cannot attend why not appoint an assistant to pass the word? It is the duty of leaders to notify all members in your sector.

Wardens of the First, Third and Fourth precinct of the Seventh ward invite anyone interested in OCD work to attend a showing of OCD moving pictures at the Mahoningtown Methodist church at 7:30 p. m. Friday. Business meetings and elections of officers will be held after the program.

Members of Post 8-1 will make a trip through the control center Tuesday evening at 8 p. m.

Post 6-3 will hold a business meeting at No. 6 fire station, Smithfield street, at 8 p. m. Wednesday for all wardens, fire guards and messengers of this sector, Gordon Cartwright, senior warden, will be in charge.

of the Eighth ward will meet at Strouss Hirschberg at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday evening, and then will visit the control center at 8 o'clock.

Republicans Make Right About Face Regarding Willkie

Delegates To '40 Presidential Convention Rate Dewey, Bricker Ahead

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Delegates to the 1940 Republican national convention which nominated Wendell Willkie, now pick Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York as their first choice for the presidential nomination, with Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio second and Willkie third.

This was disclosed Monday in a poll taken by James S. Kemper, former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in 45 out of the 48 states. Kemper was himself a delegate to the 1940 convention and voted for Willkie. Kemper's poll showed that 36.04 per cent of the 1940 delegates favor Dewey, with 21.32 per cent for Bricker, 16.75 per cent for Willkie, 8.12 per cent for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 6.09 per cent for former President Herbert Hoover, and 5.58 per cent for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Willkie practically has eliminated himself as a possibility, saying he intended to support Gov. Bricker for the nomination and run again for the Senate himself.

While Willkie ran third among the first choices, he was right at the top of the list of those whom the 1940 delegates regarded as the poorest candidate for 1944.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—The state administration of Gov. Edward Martin was dodging shots from the die-hard political cannon during the five months it "investigated" the feasibility of accepting federal maternity aid for wives of Pennsylvania servicemen. . . . Observers at the capital report that the delay was not only due to partisan politics. . . . A few G. O. P. stalwarts were not enthusiastic about receiving the federal funds, and based their objections on the "state's rights" argument. . . . However, it was reported that much more opposition came from the medical societies which thought the plan hinged on "socialized medicine."

In an off-moment, Dr. A. H. Stewart, secretary of health, in whose hands the governor placed the program, admitted that the fear of "socialized medicine" was one of the factors delaying the program's acceptance by the state. . . . However, pressure from the American Legion and from Democrats and Republicans alike forced the issue. . . . Forty-five other states have subscribed to the federal maternity aid program under which wives of servicemen receive pre-natal, maternity and post-natal care, including hospitalization and doctor's fees.

Clerks in Pennsylvania's 587 state stores are requesting another cost-of-living pay boost. . . . The employees are affiliated with the state, county and municipal workers of America (CIO). . . . Last year, the clerks went on a 10-day liquor "holiday" to arouse public attention to their pay scales. . . . More than 800 suspended employees, whom the liquor board criticized for "striking against the state," were rehired "without reprisals" when they agreed to drop, for the time being, their demands for a 20 per cent wage boost. . . . Shortly thereafter all state employees were given a 15 per cent salary increase by former Gov. Arthur H. James.

Preliminary plans for replacing the terra cotta in the huge capitol dome are underway. . . . They are being handled by William Gehron, New York architect and consultant of the Department of Property and Supplies. . . . The terra cotta has been in place since the capitol was built and his disintegrated, causing leakage. . . . No change in the design is contemplated. . . . The original title of the dome was replaced during the last Pinchot administration and will not necessitate any change.

The much discussed changes in the department of public instruction will have a great effect on the board of licensure, it is reported. . . . Not only is a personal shake-up imminent but "policy changes," according to reappointed Superintendent Francis B. Haas, will be brought to light shortly.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—The long discussed changes in the state department of public instruction are finally beginning to take shape. . . . Although the impending personnel shake up is not thoroughly underway—the dismissal of deputy superintendent Clarence E. Ackley of Pittsburgh, being the only one so far—plans to decentralize the department have been announced by Governor Martin. . . . redistribution of power from the capitol to the local school districts will be the answer to the cries of boards throughout the state who have long been seeking more authority, for although the financial burden is left to them, four-fifths of the policies and directives are issued from Harrisburg.

The re-organization axe is expected to fall heaviest in the department's licensing bureau, of which Ackley was formerly director. . . . Reports indicate that the bureau is "packed" with unnecessary employees. . . . The beauty culture section was singled out as one in which changes will be made. . . . The teacher placement service also has been the target for much criticism from smaller liberal arts colleges in the state which have charged that it is partial to graduates of state teachers colleges.

from several directions. As Russian armies press him closer towards Reich borders, Hitler is busily cooking up "pretexts" against Sweden. He may strike at any moment, in the wake of furious "incidents" magnified by Germany's past couple of days in connection with Swedish fishing boats. Every development emanating from Berlin in that connection has a familiar and ominous note. Usually the Luftwaffe strikes and the Wehrmacht marches with lightning speed as the climax of such "incidents".

Same Old Program

Four years ago the German newspapers and radio also were screaming threats and insults against Poland in great big, black headlines. They charged the Poles with oppressing "the minority Germans" within Polish borders and of maltreating them. Then the guns fired and the war was on.

The Swedish situation of the moment carries identical earmarks. German newspapers, the radio and the German foreign office, are against the Swedes. Maybe as soon as German troops have been displaced across Danish border towns after the current declaration of martial law, the Nazi lightning will strike Sweden. Hitler wanted Poland for military and world conquest reasons.

Four years later, like a frustrated criminal, he needs Sweden to guard against an Allied stab across Norway to keep the Finns in the war and to get a firmer grip on the Baltic. Judging from the familiar brow-beating behavior of Berlin in relation to Stockholm at the moment, it is clear to anyone who watched this process before, that Hitler is toying with the thought of seizing all Sweden by force, eliminating the last free land among the Scandinavians.

But even such a new outburst will not diminish the fact that after four years of war, Hitler has been thwarted and beaten to the point where desperation measures such as heavy reliance upon Himmler have become necessary.

ANOTHER HEAVY AERIAL ATTACK IS MADE AT WEWAK

wreaking havoc among the Zeros, only a few of which escaped destruction or damage.

No Lightning Planes Lost
Not a single Lightning was lost and the communiqué said that allied bomber losses "were light."

A strong force of Mitchell medium bombers hammered the Japanese stronghold at Madang, below Wewak on the New Guinea coast, losing 55 tons of explosives on nearby enemy bases at Alexishafen, Admosin and Sek Island, Amron Mission and Bogadjim.

Many enemy barges were destroyed by the Mitchells and numerous fires were kindled in fuel and supply dumps. Jap airmen did not attempt to intercept the raiders.

In the bitter ground battle at Salamaua, American and Australian jungle fighters continued to press closer to the tottering Salamaua airfield despite increasingly heavy enemy counter-attacks.

Fight Savagely
On Kila ridge close to Salamaua the Nipponese defenders fought back savagely against newly won allied positions but were repulsed with at least 40 of their number killed.

During Sunday and Monday, it was disclosed at MacArthur's headquarters, allied bombers ranged across the southwest and south Pacific battle zones from Dutch New Guinea to the Solomons striking Jap bases from Babo to Santa Isabel.

On Bougainville Island in the northern Solomons, American fighters strafed Kahali airfield, destroying eight enemy planes on the ground and ripping dispersal areas with explosives. Fires ignited on the airfield were visible 20 miles.

CITY SCHOOLS WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 8

Teaching Positions Are Filled Says Supt. Burton This Morning

"All teaching positions in the New Castle schools will be filled when school opens Sept. 8, as far as we know now," was the statement of Frank L. Burton, superintendent of schools, today, as many of the rest of the nation's schools are facing a critical teacher shortage due to the war.

Mr. Burton explained that this district is fortunate in that the proportion of the number of students to the number of teachers available seems to stay constant, instead of being pulled out of line by extreme conditions. Both numbers will probably be lower, but the exact figures remain to be seen when the students have registered.

Enrollment Changes
Registration this year is slightly changed, in an effort to facilitate accurate enrollment. Beginning pupils who will enter first grade at Arthur McGill or Highland schools are to be enrolled on Friday afternoon at those schools only. Parents of those children should bring birth and vaccination certificates, as well as the child.

High school students who will be attending New Castle high for the first time, or re-entering, or desiring any schedule change for any reason whatever, are asked to call at the high school office, Lincoln avenue, this week.

School Calendar
The 1943-44 school year, which begins Sept. 8 and ends June 2, 1944, will observe the following as holidays: Armistice Day, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving recess, Nov. 24-29; Christmas, Dec. 22, 1943-Jan. 3, 1944; Easter, April 6-11, and Memorial Day, May 30.

Buildings Renovated
School children will find many changes and repairs in the buildings when they return to their lessons next week. New or rebuilt front steps, entrances and outside walks will be found at Arthur McGill, Highland, Croton, Rose avenue and Ben Franklin. New cement playgrounds have been laid at Highland and Croton; the latter also boasts a new retaining wall. At Ben Franklin there are new steps and a walk from the student entrance on DuShane street down to the stadium.

All buildings have been washed and cleaned as usual. Interiors of Lincoln and Garfield and Highland have been repainted throughout.

Ceilings in North street school have been lowered about four feet to conserve fuel and light. New lavatories are being installed at Thaddeus Stevens. Gym floors at Washington, Franklin and senior highs are refinished. Steps leading to the basement on either side of the high school entrances have been rebuilt to improve drainage, and the terra cotta atop the walls flanking the main steps have been replaced by concrete slabs.

Curriculum will be substantially the same as last year. The pre-flight course at high school will continue, while home economic courses at Washington and Franklin have been partly re-established.

The Germans better not quit now. If they quit before we decide how to deal with Europe, the chaos will be worse than war.

ITHACA, N. Y.—War-plant workers in Broome County, and civilian volunteers from many walks of life in Niagara County, are among the many harvest-time workers in New York State who have turned their hands to harvest of hay, grain, fruits, and vegetables in aiding hard-pressed farmers.

In Broome County more than 500 war-industry workers have worked full or part-time, or week-ends, at prevailing farm wages.

To aid in recruiting and placing of volunteers, additional offices have been opened in 10 communities outside of Binghamton, in charge of teachers of agriculture, newspaper editors, or other community leaders.

MANY SUBSTITUTE SCHOOL TEACHERS WOULD BENEFIT

Reversal Of School Salary Decision Would Affect 6000 In State

By TONY ZECCA
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—Nearly 6,000 Pennsylvania school teachers would benefit by a reversal of the justice department opinion excluding substitutes from cost-of-living salary increases granted by the 1943 legislature, it was disclosed today.

Attorney General James H. Duff has recalled for "clarification" and stated that it "might possibly" be changed to include substitutes within the provisions of the Corder-Hare act which appropriated $24,300,000.

Many Substitutes
Dr. Henry Klonower, director of teacher education and certification in the public instruction department, asserted that "a survey completed last school term showed that approximately 3,000 positions were being filled by substitutes." He added that "if present trends continue, this figure will be considerably increased by the first week in September," he declared, pointing out that the figure was a conservative estimate.

Klonower said that more than 2,000 men teachers have been inducted in the armed forces while approximately 400 have entered war production activities, excluding about 500 more who retired or resigned for other causes.

Draw Off Teachers
"War production activities continue to draw off large numbers of teachers of chemistry, physics, and particularly those in the industrial arts fields and health education," he asserted. "The supply of the latter is entirely exhausted."

"One of the most difficult problems is that of finding teachers for the lower salary bracket positions, together with the unwillingness and sometimes impossibility of available teachers in one area of the state to move to another area."

"While Philadelphia and Pittsburgh indicate a surplus of teachers, this doesn't mean that such teachers are willing or able to leave their homes to teach in rural or mountainous areas."

Local War Hero, Killed In Action, Given Posthumous Award For Gallantry

Mrs. Agnes Smolkowicz, Hanna street, Rigby Post Office, has received word from Major General J. A. Ulio, Adjutant General of the U. S. Army, and also from General Marshall, Chief of Staff of the U. S. forces, stating that her son, Pfc. John M. Smolkowicz, who was killed in action in the Sicilian campaign on July 16, has been awarded the Silver Star, posthumously for gallantry in action.

Pfc. Smolkowicz, it will be remembered, was killed when he took over a hazardous post for a comrade who was ill, and during his tour of duty, met his death.

Pfc. Smolkowicz was familiarly known to many local friends as "Smokie" and they will be happy to learn that his heroism received proper acknowledgment of a grateful government.

The letter to Mrs. Smolkowicz follows:

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Aug. 31.—The afternoon appointments for the Red Cross blood bank still lack almost 100 names to reach the quota of 600.

Forty New Wilmington residents have signed up to help pay back the Mercer Donor's club which sent many volunteers to their unit about six weeks ago. Grove City volunteers are also expected since the community has oversubscribed its quota. However, taking all these things into consideration, chairmen are still dubious about having the desired number.

Review Of War Shows Hitler's Shaky Position

Democracies Victory Will Be Great, In View Of High Odds At War's Outset

(Editor's Note:—A four years review of decisive strategic events of this war by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might.")

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG
Written Especially for International News
NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—The winning of this war will be recorded in history as the greatest victory ever attained. The democracies entered the present conflict unprepared against the allegedly three greatest war machines ever created.

In 1936 Hitler started to erase the treaty of Versailles. He first was granted Austria, then Czechoslovakia. On September 1st, 1939, the mechanized Nazi legions struck into Poland. On Sept. 3rd, Great Britain declared war against Germany. France followed six hours later.

The line-up then—Germany, with supposedly the greatest blitzkrieg machine, had Italy and Japan of allegedly equal might waiting in reserve.

Great Britain had only the largest navy in the world. The French army was supposed to be the best, but it wasn't. The United States on the sidelines had a good one-ocean navy, but otherwise was unprepared.

France and Britain settled down to a winter of "phony war" behind the Maginot and Little Maginot lines.

German Mistakes In '40
On April 9th, 1940, Nazi Germany launched a two-pronged attack against Denmark and Norway. On April 15th, an ill-prepared Allied expedition with insufficient air power landed at Trondheim, Norway.

On May 9th, 1940, a Nazi avalanche was hurled against Western Europe. Holland fell in four days, Luxembourg in a few hours. Belgium and France in a matter of weeks, Mussolini declared Italy in the war.

At that point Corporal Hitler made two of his three greatest mistakes. He failed to invade Britain at once and he failed to make Japan attack the United States then.

Next followed the heartbreaking battle of Britain from July to November, 1940.

In October, 1940, an Axis blitzkrieg went through the Balkans like a hurricane. On June 22nd, 1941, came Hitler's third greatest error. He hurled his war machine against Russia and his legions were stopped.

Pearl Harbor Late
On December 7th, a year and a half too late, Hirohito launched his thunderbolt. Our navy at Pearl Harbor received staggering wounds.

The Philippines fell, Hongkong, Singapore, Malaya, and the Dutch East Indies succumbed in rapid succession.

The United Nations pendulum of successes commenced slowly to swing upwards. On April 18th, 1942, General Doolittle raided Tokyo. The British seized the French island of Madagascar, sentinels of defense for the Red Sea, Russian supplies and the Persian Gulf. In the same month our sea forces decisively defeated the Japanese armadas in the Coral Sea. On June 5th the American navy gave the Japanese a sound beating at Midway.

On August 8th MacArthur drove a wedge through the Solomon Islands at Tulagi and Guadalcanal, thus stopping the Japanese southward offensive.

Upswing Continues
But throughout, the vital cornerstone of the World War was the Middle East. Had Hitler's northern attack in Russia been able to join with Rommel's in Africa at Suez, Europe, Asia and Africa, and Russia would have fallen to the Axis war machines. The Germans were stopped at Stalingrad. Montgomery's counter offensive against the Afrika Corps was started.

The Anglo-American expedition landed in Northwest Africa. The Axis defense of Tunisia collapsed. The Mediterranean was opened to shipping. Sicily was seized, Mussolini disappeared. The submarine warfare is under control. Fortress Europe is being mercilessly bombed.

Hitler and his barbaric war machine are licked. Corporal Hitler may collapse tomorrow; he may fight for a year. The Allies are ready to strike all-out blows against our most dangerous enemy, Japan. That war will be bloody and it may be long, but the Japanese war machine will be exterminated.

Production Of Munitions In July Increases

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Munitions production in July was revealed today to have increased three per cent over June.

War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson said he was "moderately pleased" with the gradual rise from the May and June "plateau," but warned against any curtailment of production.

"If our production goals are to be achieved," he said, "production steps must continue during the next six months the good record of production increases of the past year and a half."

Nelson described a 17 per cent increase in signal equipment output as "one of the most noteworthy achievements of the month."

In vital aircraft production, he said that heavy bombers gained 13 percent, fighter planes 19 per cent and transport planes eight per cent. With a monthly goal of 8,000 planes of all types, July production was only 7,373 aircraft.

Nelson reported that 10,000 tons of shipping had been completed by the end of July. The yearly goal is 19,000,000 tons.

He said that a 33 per cent drop in war plant construction is scheduled for the remainder of the year and added that war production must concentrate on three major programs—airplanes, signal equipment and army ammunition.

PENICILLIN
Penicillin is a new remedy. It is made from a mold.

Molds usually grow in dark, damp places. Bread gets moldy sometimes. Molds are used in making cheese.

Different kinds of molds make cheese of various flavors.

Penicillin seems to be valuable in the treatment of some kinds of disease caused by bacteria.

It is hard to make and there is a very limited supply of it. The military services get first choice.

Perhaps later there will be more of it.

Then we will have a chance to find out about it. It will probably have some drawbacks. Most everything has some.

New Turp Taken In Investigation Of WAC Murder

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 31.—Investigation into the murder of Maoma Ridings, attractive WAC corporal and a former nurse at Warm Springs, Ga., took a new turn today with evidence that she may have been criminally attacked before she was killed Saturday night in the Claypool hotel.

Marion county Coroner Dr. Roy B. Storms, who attended the autopsy at Fort Benjamin Harrison, said the examination indicated the young woman had been criminally assaulted.

Heretofore the sole clue had been the statement of a bellboy, Alfred Bayne, that when he served soft drinks to Corp. Ridings' room he had seen a "black-haired woman in black." Efforts had been centered on learning the identity of the mysterious visitor on the possibility the slaver was a woman.

Corp. Ridings' half-nude body was found in her room by a maid, Mrs. Lillian McNemar, five hours after the army girl had checked in for a week-end furlough from Camp Atterbury, 40 miles south of Indianapolis, where she was stationed.

SAYS BULGARIA WOULD QUIT WAR
Leader Of Free Bulgarian Movement Says Nation Never Wanted War

(International News Service)
MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—Bulgaria would withdraw from the war immediately if she could, but remains at the mercy of the Nazis, Kosta Todorov, leader of the free Bulgarian movement, told International News Service today.

The exiled Bulgarian statesman, former Bulgarian delegate to the League of Nations, who fought with the French Foreign Legion in the last war and in his youth was a guerrilla fighter with Macedonian revolutionaries, held out scant hope for the death of King Boris through assassination or natural causes would change the immediate outlook.

"Bulgaria would get out of the war immediately if it were in her power, but the Nazis will see to it that she does not," he said.

Todorov, who narrowly escaped assassination himself on numerous occasions and experienced much of Balkan violence in his lifetime, said it was quite possible unpopular King Boris had been murdered.

"In my country," he said with a smile, "it is quite possible to kill someone."

Bulgaria, he added, "never wanted to get involved in the war."

"The nation was always against it," he added, "but in the absence of competent leadership was unable to do anything against the pressure of Nazi Germany."

"Were it possible for the Allied leaders to offer Bulgaria some solution of their age-old problems, the nation might turn against Germany. While this might not open the country to the enemies of the Axis, it would at least benefit the latter by necessitating German occupation on a fuller scale and the consequent withdrawal of German troops from other fronts."

Todorov predicted German appointment of a military chieftain as dictator of Bulgaria.

Razzano, 'Cane Star, Joins Armed Forces; Camp Workouts Light

Ace Lineman Passes Test Monday; Bridenbaugh Starts Hunt For New Fullback

(Special To The News) MUDDY CREEK FALLS, Aug. 31.—New Castle high hopes of winning the Class AA WPIAL football championship for the second consecutive season received a terrific jolt today when Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner announced that the star lineman, Tony Razzano, had joined the armed forces.

The piano-legged 190-pound athlete, acclaimed throughout WPIAL circles as the top lineman last season and who is being groomed for the 'Cane fullback post, successfully passed his physical examination in Pittsburgh yesterday.

It is expected that Razzano will play in the first two games, against Grove City and Beaver Falls. Chances of being named for Army service are rather slim, however, in view of the fact that most of this month's selections are being inducted into the Navy.

Draws Loud Praise

Loss of Razzano was accepted in a philosophic manner in the McCallum training den where the 'Cane

Said Bridenbaugh: "Naturally I am sorry to lose such a fine athlete. But, that's part of the game today. I'm certain that Tony will make as good a soldier as he is a football player and he's a fine football player, one of the best in my book."

The development caused Bridenbaugh and his staff to tear their blueprint and commence drawing another one. There is a possibility that the important fullback post may go to Mike Roussos, husky tackle.

Undergo Long Drill

After undergoing a morning session shortly after opening camp yesterday morning, the 40-man team was ordered through a long workout.

LATE FLASHES

PHILS LOSE, 6-0

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Aug. 31.—The Lancaster Red Roses, leaders of the Interstate league, today had added the Phillies to their long list of diamond victories. The Phillies suffered a 6-0 shellacking at the hands of the Roses in an exhibition contest at Lancaster before 2185 fans.

TEMPLE INEXPERIENCED

PHILADELPHIA—Ray Morrison's name can be added today to the growing list of football coaches with manpower shortage headaches.

Morrison's Temple Owls held their first drill yesterday and only one candidate out of 25 was listed as "experienced." That experience amounts to one minute played in the 1942 Villanova game.

HEWITT AT FULLBACK

PHILADELPHIA—After 16 years on the gridiron Bill Hewitt today was back in the position where he started—fullback. Hewitt, who has recently been holding a berth as quarterback, was shifted by coaches Greasy Neale and Walter Kiesling as the Eagles-Steelers continued practice for their opening game with the Chicago Bears at Shibe Park September 16.

Give Westminster Trainees A Lift From Legion Home

American Legion Permits Use Of Home As Pick-Up Point For Returning Trainees

Announcement that the American Legion Home has been named a pick-up point for Army and Navy trainees stationed at Westminster College is the first step toward helping those boys out of a spot. The next step is up to the people of New Castle. Any person driving to New Wilmington seeing these trainees standing on the corner of the Legion or on the porch of the home will know that they desire a ride back.

Because of the irregular transportation facilities available to New Wilmington, the Army and Navy commanding officers requested the Greater New Castle Association's help in solving the problem. The GNCA contacted the American Legion, which kindly consented a pick-up point. A sign will probably be placed in front of the home to that effect.

The 332nd Infantry, the only Yanks to be sent to Italy, will gather at the 22nd annual men differ from the Yanks in this war, in that they were fighting on Italian soil for Italy, while the Yanks in this war are fighting against the same nation.

A banquet Saturday night will high-light the two day gathering. Col. J. L. Cochran, an officer of the 83rd division in the last war and later on the staff of General Pershing, will be the principal speaker. Election of officers will occur on Sunday.

ROSS CALLS FOR PRICE INQUIRY

Alleges Violation Of Ceiling Prices In Food Purchases By Commonwealth

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—Auditor General F. Clair Ross today pressed for an investigation by the Office of Price Administration into "actual and alleged ceiling price violations in the purchase of foodstuffs by the commonwealth."

"The auditor general's department will not condone virtual 'black market' operations," the fiscal officer stated after he had requested a probe by Frank J. Loftis, district director of the Harrisburg Office of Price Administration.

"Requisitions for the payment of bills for foodstuffs supplied to the commonwealth have been submitted for approval," Ross said. "In checking the prices actually charged with the Office of Price Administration ceiling prices, there is a wide discrepancy. There is also a very considerable difference between vendors' prices for the same commodity delivered to different institutions of the department of welfare during the same period. In addition, there is admission by the department of welfare of overcharges in some instances."

"Moreover," Ross continued, "the department of welfare changed official bid schedules by reducing a vendor's price $1 per unit after the obviously exorbitant price was called to that department's attention."

"The auditor general's department will not condone virtual 'black market' operations and these transactions must become a matter for investigation by the Office of Price Administration to which I have submitted the facts in this department's possession."

Ross added that he has notified the attorney general and the department of welfare of the action taken.

NAZI-DOMINATED EUROPE SEETHING

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Nazi-dominated Europe today was described by Secretary of State Cordell Hull as seething with unrest, revolt and the desire for liberation. Commenting on the situation in Denmark and Bulgaria, Hull told his news conference that while details of later developments in those two countries are meager, the reports received by the state department generally indicate that the vast numbers of people in the Axis occupied countries are seething and anxiously hoping for relief.

Maternity Aid For Servicemen's Wives Planned

Only Approval Of Children's Bureau In Washington Awaited By State

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 31.—Maternity aid for servicemen's wives in Pennsylvania today awaited only the approval of the children's bureau in Washington.

State Secretary of Health Alexander H. Stewart announced that his department is now ready to establish a program using federal funds to provide for maternal and infant care of wives and infant of enlisted personnel in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh pay grades of the armed forces.

Federal funds will be allocated to Pennsylvania on the basis of a plan prepared by the state health department when approved by the children's bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Stewart said the plan was forwarded to the children's bureau on Aug. 27 and added that "Pennsylvania is prepared to initiate this program without delay as soon as the plan is approved."

The Martin administration subscribed to the plan, which had already been adopted by 45 other states, after five months of delay and under pressure from veterans' groups.

Effective tomorrow, "war babies" of Pennsylvania will also be given free birth certificates by the state in accordance with an act passed by the 1943 legislature.

TELLS OF ESCAPE FROM NAZI TOILS

Native Of Prague Tells Of German Invasion Of Homeland Four Years Ago

Perhaps no speaker, talking about experiences in the present war, has thrilled Rotary club members as did Mrs. George Reitoft, a native of Czechoslovakia, who with her family was one of the fortunate few to get out of her homeland before the Nazis had sealed every avenue of escape. Mrs. Reitoft addressed Rotary club members at their noon luncheon meeting Monday in The Castleton.

She told how she and her family got out of Czechoslovakia in 1938, when things were in political turmoil, with the Germans putting the pressure on the Sudeten area to become a part of Germany. Her husband was forced to leave his manufacturing plant to become the property of the Nazis after the invasion, but felt that life under them would be unbearable. That was in 1938. She and her family made their way to England, but when it looked as if the day was drawing ever nearer, when Germany would take over, she went back to visit her parents, in Prague, and was caught there in March, 1939, when the Nazis marched in.

Immediately after the soldiers entered Czechoslovakia, the borders were closed to all who wanted to enter or leave, and she told of the waiting in line, day after day, trying to get permission to leave the country. Finally, permission was granted, and she told of spending many wearisome days, aboard a train that was sealed and guarded by German soldiers, with no sanitary conveniences, and after many insults from the Germans, finally managed to get into Germany, and then across the border to Holland, from whence she again made her way to England.

She told how people whom they had known and trusted most of their lives turned out to be Gestapo spies, and of how many of their friends were executed or sent away to concentration camps, never to be heard from again.

People lived in constant fear, and covered in terror when the door bell rang; fearful that it was the dreaded Nazis after them, she said.

She told of the atrocities inflicted on some of her best friends, some of whom took their own lives, after their husbands or fathers were shot down by the Nazis before their very eyes.

In spite of Nazi efforts to guard the borders and the fact that many were caught and executed, a great many of the young men were able to get out of the country and are now fighting with the Allied forces on many fronts.

Many acts of sabotage are being carried on daily, although it means that many will be executed, but the people of Czechoslovakia have not given up the hope that one day they will be a free nation again, she stated. There is also a wonderful underground organization which keeps the outside world informed as to what is going on.

She urged the people of the United States to carry on and fight for those principles that men and women are dying for every day in the enslaved countries of Europe, so that freedom and justice may some day triumph.

Stewart said the plan was forwarded to the children's bureau on Aug. 27 and added that "Pennsylvania is prepared to initiate this program without delay as soon as the plan is approved."

The Martin administration subscribed to the plan, which had already been adopted by 45 other states, after five months of delay and under pressure from veterans' groups.
